CURRENT PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Private Practice, Community Psychological Consultants, 1994-Present
Collaborative Solutions, 2016-present

My current professional activities include comprehensive evaluations/assessments, psychotherapy, and consultation services with a varied population of clients, from infants, children, adolescents, young adults, and adults, to couples and families in transition. My evaluations/assessments practice addresses a wide spectrum of presenting concerns and questions, from evaluations of individuals for purposes of diagnosis and recommendations for treatment or interventions to evaluations to provide information to the Court regarding mental status and parenting concerns, or other questions related to families and children, as well as some criminal issues. I provide services related to diverse presenting concerns, and to consultation services to public and independent schools, attorneys, physicians, and service organizations. I am part of a collaborative practice group, Collaborative Solutions, as a family specialist/mental health neutral.
